Notes: We book the included hotel/airport transfer based on the majority of traveler flight times. Transfers to/from hotels apart from the majority of travelers is not included.

* 10/30 is a free day in Tel Aviv. Greece to Israel travelers will arrive late on 10/29. Israel travelers can arrive on 10/29 too if you wish. We will plan some activities for 10/30 based on traveler preference (or you can rest) but the airport transfer, extra hotel night & activity costs are not included. We will try to group travelers together and will arrange for the transfer. Options for the day are beach, fabulous museum, Carmel Market, Jaffa, & more. We don't spend much time in Tel Aviv so coming early is a great way to see it.

FLIGHT NOTES:

- See the next page for recommendations on which flights to book but you can choose any flights you wish. We suggest you book with the airline directly, not with a 3rd party like Expedia, Cheap Travel, or others so you have airline support if needed.
- You can fly from Fresno FAT, San Francisco SFO, Los Angeles LAX, or wherever you wish. We recommend Fresno for those in that area (though usually a bit more expensive) as the drive home from SFO or LAX is tiring after a long trip + you would pay parking fees at the airport.
- Airlines change flight costs and schedules often. What is available today may not be tomorrow so book when you feel the flight is right for you. Our recommendations are based on the best flight arrival/departure times and flight duration but may not be the cheapest. We also consider what arrival flights allow you the best timing to be ready for the start of the tour the next day.
- You may wish to consider an upgraded seat – Premium Economy (or similar) or Business but at least be sure to choose your preferred seat when you book. Airlines sometimes change the type of aircraft after you book so check every month or so to be sure you still have seats that work for you.
- You can use miles/points for your flights. If you don't have a mileage account with the airline(s), open one to earn the points.
- Consider putting all flights on one credit card to keep costs all together. Chase Sapphire Preferred provides additional coverage.
- Once you book your flight, send the itinerary to Debbie (devand@sbcglobal.net). We track your flights and will know if your flight is late so we can assist when you do arrive. We will also let you know if others are on your same flight for coordination and potential carpools to the airport which we will help arrange.
- The transfer from Israel to Jordan is by bus and Jordan to Egypt by ferry– no flight is needed. Visas for Egypt are provided.
- Please contact Debbie if you need help with your flights.
